Paola Balotta

Owner Administrative Officer

TRB has 45 years experience in hydraulic fields, specialized in hydraulic cylinder components manufacturing.

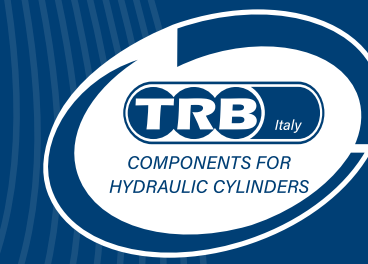

We are organized to ensure consistent and repetitive supply to the customer even in large quantities. Advantages for our customers include flexibility in shipping and packaging that is both practical to handle and functional to store.

The most competitive feature of our service, however, is the possibility of having a dedicated and agreed upon stock of finished products with us, which guarantees the continuity of your work.
